

Right to Amend.

You have the right to ask us to amend medical information about you to correct incomplete or incorrect information. You have this right for so long as the medical information is maintained by us.

To request an amendment, you must submit your request in writing to Redpoint Medical, PSC, 128 Southland Drive Lexington, Ky. 40503. Your request must state the amendment desire and provide a reason in support of that amendment.

We will act on your request within sixty (60) calendar days after we receive your request.

We may deny your request to amend medical information about you. We may deny your request if it is not in writing and does not provide a reason in support of the amendment. In addition, we may deny your request to amend medical information if we determine that the information:

Was not created by us, unless the person or entity that created the information is no longer available to act on the requested amendment;

Is not part of the medical information maintained by us;

Would not be available for you to inspect or copy or

Is accurate and complete.

If we deny your request, we will inform you of the basis for that denial. You will have the right to submit a statement or disagreement with our denial. We may prepare a rebuttal to that statement. Your request for amendment, our denial of the request, your statement or disagreement, if any, and our rebuttal, if any, will then be appended to the medical information involved or otherwise linked to it. All of that will then be included with any subsequent disclosure of the information, or, at our election, we may include a summary of any of that information.

Right to an Account of Disclosures.

You have the right to receive an account of disclosures of medical information about you. The account may be for up to six (6) years prior to the date on which you request the account.

Certain types of disclosures are not included in such an account:

Disclosures to carry out treatment, payment, and health care operations;

Disclosures of your medical information made to you;

Disclosures that are incident to another use or disclosure;

Disclosures that you have authorized;

Disclosures to persons involved in your care;

Disclosures for disaster relief purposes;

Disclosure of national security or intelligence purposes;

Disclosure to correctional institutions or law enforcement officials having custody of you;

Disclosures that are part of a limited data set for purposes of research, public health, or health care operations (a limited data set is information in which things that would directly identify you have been removed);

Under certain circumstances your right to an account of disclosures to a law enforcement official or a health oversight agency may be suspended. Should you request an account during the period of time your right is suspended, the account will not include the disclosure or disclosures to a law enforcement official or to a health oversight agency.

To request an account of disclosures, you must submit your request in writing to Redpoint Medical, PSC, 128 Southland Drive Lexington, Ky. 40503 on the form we will provide.

Usually, we will act on your request within sixty (60) calendar days after we receive your request. Within that time, we will either provide the account of disclosures to you or give you a written statement of when we will provide the account and why the delay is necessary.

There is no charge for the first account we provide to you in any twelve (12) month period. For additional accounts, we may charge you for the cost of providing the list. If there will be a change, we will notify you of the cost involved and give you an opportunity to withdraw or modify your request to avoid or reduce the fee.

Notice of Privacy Practices

Effective: April 14, 2003

This notice describes how medical information about you may be used and disclosed and how you can get access to this information.

PLEASE REVIEW IT CAREFULLY.

Redpoint Medical, PSC has long accepted our professional responsibility to protect the privacy of patient information. The purpose of this notice is to tell you how we may use and disclose protected health information about you. Protected health information means any health information about you that identifies you or for which there is a reasonable basis to believe the information can be used to identify you. In this notice, we call all of that protected health information, "medical information".

This notice also will tell you about your rights and our duties with respect to medical information about you. We want you to know that Redpoint Medical, PSC strives to keep your medical information secure.

How We May Use and Disclose Medical Information About You.

We use and disclose medical information about you for a number of different purposes. Those purposes are described below.

For Treatment.

We may use medical information about you to provide, coordinate or manage your health care and related services. We may disclose medical information about you to doctors, nurses, hospitals and other health facilities who become involved in your care. We may consult with other health care providers concerning you and as part of the consultation share your medical information with them. Similarly, we may refer you to another health care provider and as part of the referral share medical information about you with that provider. For example, we may conclude you need to receive services from a physician with a particular specialty. When we refer you to that physician, we also will contact that physician's office and provide medical information about you to them so they have the information they need to provide services for you.

For Payment.

We may use and disclose medical information about you so we can be paid for the services we provide to you. This can include billing you, your insurance company, or a third party payer. For example, we may need to give your insurance company information about the health care services we provide to you so your insurance company will pay us for those services or reimburse you for amounts you have paid. We may also need to provide your insurance company or a government program, such as Medicare or Medicaid, with information about your medical condition and the health care you need to receive to determine if those health care services are covered by that insurance or program.

For Health Care Operations.

We may use and disclose medical information about you for our own health care operations. These are necessary for us to operate Redpoint Medical, PSC and to maintain quality health care for our patients. For example, we may use medical information about you to review the services we provide and the performance of our employees in caring for you. We may disclose medical information about you to train our staff, volunteers and students working with Redpoint Medical, PSC. We may also use the information to study ways to more efficiently manage our organization. We may discuss medical information about you with organizations such as health plans, insurance companies, and accrediting agencies to review and maintain quality health care services.

How We Will Contact You.

Unless you tell us otherwise in writing, we may contact you either by telephone or by mail at either your home or your workplace. At either location, we may leave messages for you on the answering machine or voice mail. If you want to request that we communicate with you in a certain way or at a certain location, see the "Right to Receive Confidential Communications" section of this Notice.

Appointment Reminders.

We may use and disclose medical information about you to contact you with appointment reminders.

Treatment Alternatives.

We may use and disclose medical information about you to contact you about treatment alternatives that may be of interest to you.

Health Related benefits and Services.

We may use and disclose medical information about you to contact you about health related benefits and services that may be of interest to you.

Marketing Communications.

We may use and disclose medical information about you to communicate with you about a product or service to encourage you to purchase the product or service. This may be:

- ◊ To describe a health related product or service that is provided by us;
- ◊ For your treatment;
- ◊ For case management or care coordination for you;
- ◊ To direct or recommend alternative treatments, therapies, health care providers, or sellings of care.

We may communicate to you about products and services in a face-to-face communication by us to you. We may also communicate about products or services in the form of a promotional gift of nominal value.

All other use and disclosure of medical information about you by us to communicate about a product or service to encourage the purchase or use of a product or service will be done only with your written authorization.

Individuals Involved in Your Care.

Unless you object, we may disclose to a family member, other relative, a close personal friend, or any other person identified by you, medical information about you that is directly relevant to that person's involvement with your care or payment related to your care. We may also use or disclose medical information about you to notify, or assist in notifying those persons of your location, general condition or death.

Disaster Relief.

We may use or disclose medical information about you to a public or private entity authorized by law or by it's charter to assist in disaster relief efforts.

This will be done to coordinate with those entities in notifying a family member, other relative, close personal friend, or other person identified by you of your location, general condition or death.

Required by Law.

We may use or disclose medical information about you when we are required to do so by law.

Public Health Activities.

We may disclose medical information about you for public health activities and purposes required by law. This includes reporting medical information to a public health authority for purposes of preventing or controlling disease or, to a public health agency authorized to receive reports of child abuse and neglect. It also includes reporting activities related to the quality, safety or effectiveness of a United States Food and Drug Administration regulated product or activity.

Victims of Abuse, Neglect or Domestic Violence.

We may disclose medical information about you to a government authority authorized by law to receive reports of abuse, neglect or domestic violence if we believe you are a victim of abuse, neglect or domestic violence. This will occur to the extent the disclosure is : (a) required by law; (b) agreed to by you; or, (c) authorized by the law and we believe the disclosure is necessary to prevent serious harm to you or to other potential victims. If you are incapacitated, certain other conditions are met, and a law enforcement or other public official represents that immediate enforcement activity depends on the disclosure, we may disclose medical information about you.

Health Oversight Activities.

We may disclose medical information about you to a health oversight agency for activities authorized by law, including audits, investigations, inspections, licensure or disciplinary actions.

Judicial and Administrative Proceedings.

We may disclose medical information about you in the course of any judicial or administrative proceeding in response to an order of the court or administrative tribunal.

We also may disclose medical information about you in response to a subpoena, discovery request, or other legal process but only if efforts have been made to tell you about the request or to obtain an order protecting the information to be disclosed.

Disclosure for law Enforcement Purposes.

We may disclose medical information you to a law enforcement official for law enforcement purposes:

- a. As required by law.
- b. In response to a court, grand jury or administrative order, warrant or subpoena.
- c. To locate or identify a suspect, fugitive, material witness or missing person.
- d. About an actual or suspected victim of a crime and that person agrees to the disclosure. If we are unable to obtain that person's agreement, in limited circumstances, the information may still be disclosed.
- e. To alert law enforcement officials to a death if we suspect the death may have resulted in criminal conduct.
- f. About a crime in the event one occurs at our facility.
- g. To report a crime in emergency circumstances.

Coroners and Medical Examiners.

We may disclose medical information about you to a coroner or medical examiner for purposes such as identifying a deceased person and determining cause of death.

Funeral Directors.

We may disclose medical information about you to funeral directors as necessary for them to carry out their duties.

Organ, Eye or Tissue Donation.

To facilitate organ, eye or tissue donation and transplantation, we may disclose medical information about you to organ procurement organizations or other entities engaged in the procurement, banking or transplantation of organs, eyes or tissue.

Research.

Under certain circumstances, we may use or disclose medical information about you for research. Before we disclose medical information for research, the research will have been approved through an approval process that evaluates the needs of the research project with your needs for privacy of your medical information. We may, however, disclose medical information about you to a person who is preparing to conduct research to permit them to prepare for the project, but no medical information will leave Redpoint Medical, PSC during that person's review of the information.

To Avert Serious Threat to Health or Safety.

We may use or disclose protected health information about you if we believe the use or disclosure is necessary to prevent or lessen a serious or imminent threat to the health or safety of a person or the public. We also may release information about you if we believe the disclosure is necessary for law enforcement authorities to identify or apprehend an individual who admitted participation in a violent crime or who is an escapee from a correctional institution or from lawful custody.

Military.

If you are a member of the Armed Forces, we may use or disclose medical information about you for activities deemed necessary by the appropriate military command authorities to assure the proper execution of the military mission. We may also release information about foreign military personnel to the appropriate foreign military authority for the same purposes.

National Security and Intelligence.

We may disclose medical information about you to authorized federal officials for the conduct of intelligence, counter-intelligence and other national security activities authorized by law.

Protective Services for the President.

We may disclose medical information about you to authorized federal officials so they can provide protection to the President of the United States, certain other federal officials, or foreign heads of state.

Inmates; Persons in Custody.

We may disclose medical information about you to a correctional institution or law enforcement official having custody of you. The disclosure will be made if the disclosure is necessary: (a) to provide health care to you; (b) for the health and safety of others; or, for the safety, security and good order of the correctional institution.

Workers Compensation.

We may disclose medical information about you to the extent necessary to comply with workers' compensation and similar laws that provide benefits for work related injuries or illness without regard to fault.

Mental Health or Chemical Dependency Records.

If we have received health information about you from a health care provider, we will not re-disclose or otherwise reveal any mental health or chemical dependency records contained in that information, beyond the purpose of the disclosure to us, without first obtaining your written authorization or as required by law.

Other Uses and Disclosures.

Other uses and disclosures will be made only with your written authorization. You may revoke such an authorization at anytime by notifying Redpoint Medical, PSC, 128 Southland Drive Lexington, KY 40503 in writing if you desire to revoke it.

You Rights With Respect to Medical Information About You.

You have the following rights with respect to medical information that we maintain about you.

Right to Inspect and Copy.

With a few very limited exceptions, such as psychotherapy notes, you have the right to inspect and obtain a copy of medical information about you.

To request a copy of medical information about you, you may submit your request in writing to Redpoint Medical, PSC, 128 Southland Drive Lexington, KY 40503.

Your request should state specifically what information you want copied. We will provide you with a form to request the copies. In addition, we may charge a fee for the costs of copying and, if you ask that it be mailed to you, the cost of mailing. To inspect medical information about you, please submit your request in writing to Redpoint Medical, PSC, 128 Southland Drive Lexington, KY 40503. Your request should state specifically what medical information you want to inspect. We will act on your request within thirty (30) calendar days after we receive your request.

We may deny your request to inspect and copy medical information.

If we deny your request, we will inform you of the basis for the denial, how you may have our denial reviewed, and how you may file a complaint. If you request a review of our denial, it will be conducted by a licensed health care professional designated by us who was not directly involved in the denial. We will comply with the outcome of that review.

Right to Receive Confidential Communications.

You have the right to request that we communicate medical information about you to you in a certain way or at a certain location. For example, you can ask that we only contact you by mail or at work. We will not require you to tell us why you are asking for the confidential communication.

If you want to request confidential communication, you must do so in writing to Redpoint Medical, PSC, 128 Southland Drive Lexington, KY 40503. Your request must state how or where you can be contacted.

We will accommodate your request if it is reasonable. However, we may, when appropriate, require information from you concerning how payment will be handled. We may also require an alternate address or other method to contact you. If we are unable to accommodate your request, we will inform you of the basis for the denial.

Right to Request Restrictions.

You have the right to request that we restrict the uses or disclosures of medical information about you to carry out treatment, payment, or health care operations. You also have the right to request that we restrict the uses or disclosures we make to: (a) a family member, other relative, a close personal friend or any other person identified by you; or, (b) to public or private entities for disaster relief efforts.

To request a restriction, you may do so at any time. If you request a restriction, you should do so to Redpoint Medical, PSC, 128 Southland Drive Lexington, KY 40503 and tell us: (a) what information you want to limit; (b) whether you want to limit use or disclosure or both; and, (c) to whom you want the limits to apply (for example, disclosures to your spouse). To avoid misunderstandings, your request should be in writing on the form we will provide upon request.

We are not required to agree to any requested restriction. However, if we do agree, we will follow that restriction unless the information is needed to provide emergency treatment. Even if we agree to a restriction, either you or we can later terminate the restriction.
